

PRESS RELEASE

Redondo Beach Police Department Domestic Violence Victims Advocacy Program

Open Volunteer Positions

1/9/14

The Redondo Beach Police Department Domestic Violence Victims Advocacy Program will be conducting interviews to fill open on-call volunteer positions.

Gain priceless experience providing supportive services for victims and their families.

We are looking for compassionate individuals with positive attitudes. 40 hour in-house training provided. Candidates interested in becoming an on-call volunteer victim advocate must:

- Possess own car, valid California driver's license and auto insurance.
- Be able to pass a background check.
- Commit to comply with confidentiality requirements and policies governing police operations.
- Have the capacity to be on-call a minimum of four-twelve hour shifts a month including some evenings and weekends.
- Be able to climb up and down 20 or more stairs with no assistance.
- Live within 10-15 minutes of Redondo Beach.

For more information contact RBPD DV Program Coordinator Ericka at 310 379 2477 x2336 or at Ericka.gonzalez@redondo.org

Applications must be submitted by February 5, 2014