PRESS RELEASE # 000

Subject : Redondo Beach Reserve Police Officer Michael Stark Awarded Reserve Peace Officer of the Year for the State of California
Contact : Lieutenant James M. Acquarelli (310) 379-2477 x2391

On August 26, 2005, Redondo Beach Police Reserve Officer Michael Stark was awarded Reserve Police Officer of the Year for the State of California. Mike was honored at the annual California Reserve Peace Officer's Association conference in San Diego, CA. The banquet was attended by Redondo Beach Police Chief Robert M. Luman along with several hundred law enforcement executives and dignitaries from all over the State.

During his thirty-three years as a Reserve Police Officer, and with the support from his family, Officer Stark has accomplished his reserve duties while fulfilling the responsibilities of a demanding a career. Mike has worked as the President, Vice President and CEO of several large logistics companies, spanning global and domestic markets. Despite his extraordinary achievements as a business person and loving father, Mike continues to dedicate his time and energy as the second person in a patrol car on nights and weekends.

Officer Stark's quality of work reflects high professional standards which have developed team momentum, enthusiasm and pride for the Reserve Corps. His industriousness, conscientiousness and diligence support the outstanding level of service and assistance which Mike renders to the community, the Reserve Corps, and the Redondo Beach Police Department. Congratulations to Officer Stark and his family.

The Mayor and City Council of Redondo Beach will further honor Officer Stark at the September 20th City Council meeting for his achievement.
